'Live' project meeting in Oberhausen

With great pleasure we look back at our 'live' project meeting which took place in Oberhausen from 21-23 September 2021. Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the project team hadn't been able to meet up live for about 1,5 years. We tried to continue our project work online via e-mail and MS Teams. Even though we are proud about the progress we have made in those 1,5 years it wasn't always easy and efficient to work together only online. Project partner Hans-Sachs-Berufskolleg was a great host and we managed to do a lot of good work together.

A look behind the scenes in Valencia, Spain

"My name is Javier Mercadal and I am studying Heating and Cooling. This year, me and the rest of my colleagues, we are working with the heat pump, a model developed for the Edutrans project. It's being a great opportunity for us because it is a technology that is increasing a lot in Spain.
